

APPLE MANAGED SERVICES WITH CDW

Modern devices make it possible for your employees to work wherever and whenever they need to, while providing access to company resources, right at their fingertips. Device mobility also enhances workflow by making business processes more efficient, allowing your employees to take care of customer tasks more quickly. To stay competitive and meet customers' expectations, companies need to have a modern, reliable management platform in place that supports business goals while allowing workers to get more done in more places. However, there has been an amplification of shortage of talent as the demand for Mac in business has grown.

As an accredited Jamf Managed Service Provider (MSP), CDW can be an extension of your IT team through its full Mac managed service offering. Explore the benefits below.

CDW'S MANAGED SERVICES

CDW's endpoint management solutions for Apple deliver support to users anywhere, at any time, on any device. Our dedicated Apple Practice evaluates end-user experience in several areas, including device, app and data access, networking, security and support. After analysing, experts deliver recommendations to optimise the device environment.
